Eight hundred and twenty five workers in the San Fernando de Henares fulfilment center outside Madrid have voted to go on strike against Amazon for a variety of complaints that include:

- FROZEN SALARIES
- IRREGULAR WAGES AND HOURS
- ”FLEXIBLE” SCHEDULES
- LACK OF DAYS OFF
- LACK OF BENEFITS
- ZERO NOTICE FOR SCHEDLING DECISIONS
- BLEAK FUTURE

Management called in the workers for a company meeting and pleaded with them not to strike. This was refused and the strike will soon begin at the main fulfilment center for the Castillian capitol. There are only six Amazon centers in Spain, similar to the amount in the Puget Sound region. If all of them were suddenly gripped with a crippling strike, Amazon would be paralyzed in the State of Washington. Don’t forget your power. DIRECT ACTION GETS THE GOODS!
